DIAGRAM 1
• Once your fabric strips are attached in pairs, sew them in the following order. Think of a lock cabin block when attaching them together.

• You should have a block looking like this:

• Cutting your block

• Use a 12 x 12"in ruler to mark a square on top of the block you just did. If you don’t have a ruler, create a paper template to cut your 12" square block.

• Tip: use clear paper to create your template. This will help you place your template properly centered.

• Once your fabric strips are attached, sew them in the following order. Think of a lock cabin block when attaching them.

• You should have a block looking like this:

• Block 2

• Repeat the same process using fabrics B, C, D, J.

• Your final block should look like this:

• You should have a block looking like this:
• Block 3

• Join strips of 16 x 2” and 16 x 3 1/2” in fabrics C, H, K, I. Follow the diagram below for strip attachment.

| E & G   | x 2  |
| E & G | (1)  |
| E & C  | (1)  |
| C & F  | x 3  |
| C & E  | (1)  |

• Once your fabric strips are attached, sew them in the following order. Think of a lock cabin block when attaching them.

• Cutting your block

• Once you see everything is properly balanced cut your final block with a roller cutter. Refer to the diagram below to properly place your template or ruler.

The square pattern should be touching the tip of fabric C intersecting strips right in the middle.
